Assisting Voters with Disabilities: What You Should Know

Voting is a fundamental right. Voters with disabilities have the right to assistance in voting and are entitled to receive any assistance they need to cast their ballots. Only a Superior Court can declare a person unable to vote due to mental incompetency and therefore unable to vote. Do not assume that a person under guardianship due to their mental capacity is ineligible to vote. A guardian may not vote on behalf of a person under guardianship, and power of attorney does not extend to voting.

Who may assist a voter?

Federal law gives voters with disabilities the right to decide whether to get assistance in casting a ballot and who will provide it. The only people who may not assist a voter are the voter's employer or an agent of that employer, or, if the voter is a member of a union, a union officer or agent of the union.

What can assistance providers do to help a person vote?

- First, an assistance provider or helper should ask the voter what choice he or she wants to make.
- The helper must respect the voter's privacy at all times during the voting process.
- The helper should be familiar with the instructions on how to cast a ballot and be prepared to explain them to the voter and/or demonstrate the voting process.
- The helper may mark a ballot for a voter with a disability only if the voter has directed him or her to do so.
- After the ballot has been completed, the helper should make sure that it accurately reflects the voter's choices. The helper should offer to correct any mistakes and to check the ballot for any election contests or questions that may have been missed.

What actions would not be appropriate?

- Making decisions for the voter—for example, marking or changing a ballot to reflect a choice other than a choice expressed by the voter. Everyone has the right to choose whether or not to vote on each contest.
- Communicating with the voter in a way that makes the voter feel forced to make certain choices.
- The assistant protects the voter's privacy.

If you have any problems providing assistance on Election Day, you can call Election Protection at 1-866-OUR-VOTE (1-866-687-8683).

Housing

Finding affordable housing is a challenge that many Americans face, especially in urban settings. This task is especially daunting for people with disabilities, many of whom rely on government assistance programs as their sole income if they're unemployed and who earn significantly less (on average) that people without disabilities if they are employed.

Parent Reviews: Puberty Clues App

"I recommend checking out this app 'Puberty Clues'. Simplistic, but effective. My daughter and I sat down and went through it, she didn't get scared (which has happened in the past) and was excited to move on to the next category. There are mini games that she plays which also teaches her how to care for herself. I love this app!!"

Down syndrome Outreach

On Sunday, October 7th, Down syndrome Outreach held our 15th Annual Buddy Walk in downtown Bellingham at Depot Market Square. Despite a little bit of rain, there were over 400 people walking, celebrating, honoring, dancing and spreading awareness of Down syndrome! Inside of the building, kids were crafting, making posters, playing with Lego's and enjoying our sensory areas. With the help of over 75 volunteers, the event ran smoothly. Thanks so much to all of the families, friends, volunteers, and community supporting for this event. This day was made possible by all of the amazing sponsors, community partners, and donors!

Self Advocacy

Are you a Representative Payee?

Some representative payees were recently notified of changes to their rep payee accounting responsibilities.

Who is not required to file a representative payee report? Due to a recent change in law, Social Security Administration (SSA) no longer require the following representative payees to complete an annual Representative Payee Report:

- Natural or adoptive parents of a minor child beneficiary who primarily reside in the same household as the child;
- Legal guardians of a minor child beneficiary who primarily reside in the same household as the child:
- Natural or adoptive parents of a disabled adult beneficiary who primarily reside in the same household as the beneficiary; and
- Spouse of a beneficiary.

Do I still need to keep financial records if I am not required to annually file the representative payee report? Yes, you are still required to keep records of how you spent or saved the payments, and make all records available for review if requested by SSA.

Further information is available online at Social Security Administration, https://www.ssa.gov/payee/faqrep.htm

Call Social Security

If you don't have access to the internet, SSA offer many automated services by telephone, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Call toll-free at 1-800-772-1213 or at our TTY number, 1-800-325-0778, if you're deaf or hard of hearing.

If you need to speak to a person, SSA can answer your calls from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday. They ask for your patience during busy periods since you may experience a higher than usual rate of busy signals and longer hold times to speak to a staff member.
